DETAILED ACTION

Response to amendment

1. Applicant(s) amendment and remarks filed 3 October 2006 have been fully considered and deemed persuasive vis a vis claim 13-15 which remain unamended and within a reasonable interpretation of the prior art. For at least the above reasons, this action has been made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §103 as being obvious in view of Fitzgerald (U.S. Patent 5,835,361) in light of Nilssen (U.S. Patent 6,107,749). Fitzgerald et al shows,¹ (in, e.g., the(ir) figure 1 and corresponding disclosure) the invention as discussed below. However, Fitzgerald does not show a resonant circuit coupled to the primary to provide power to the control logic. Nilssen shows in figure 4, e.g., a resonant circuit including a tank inductor (Lx) and a tank capacitor (Cx) which provide power to the controller (Icx) through the various intervening circuitry. It would have been obvious to provide power to a controller using a resonant circuit of Nilssen into the circuit of Fitzgerald for the reason of providing a means to power the controller independent of an outside power supply. Note that the tank inductance of Nilssen is separate from the primary winding (PWx). See, e.g., column 6 lines 38-52).

As to claim 13;

The method of operating a converter-controller, comprising a power device (whole structure or any part thereof), coupled to a primary coil (L1) of a transformer of a converter, a resonant circuit (C6 and L1, see. E.g., column 2 lines 13-21), a voltage regulator (D6, R11/R12 etc), and a control logic (including 23, IC1, Q2, etc), the method comprising: powering the control logic by the power device, the resonant circuit and the voltage regulator; and controlling, by the control logic, the length of switch-on and switch-off intervals of the power device, thereby controlling an output voltage of the converter (this is called pulse width modulation—Q2 is described as a duty cycle modulator at column 5 lines 36-44).

As to claim 14;

The method of claim 1, wherein the converter is operated in one of a flyback mode and a forward mode (Fitzgerald indicates that the converter is implemented in a forward mode of operation).

As to claim 15 The method of claim 13, wherein the converter is operated at an essentially constant frequency (as long as load and source stay essentially constant, the operation of the converter is essentially constant).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-12 and 16-19 are allowable.
3. As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's response must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 C.F.R. § 1.111(b) and section 707.07(a) of the M.P.E.P.

Conclusion

1. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
